

PRAYER LETTER

SUNDAY, JULY 5, 2008

Religious Support Team, 2nd Iraqi Army Division Military Transition Teams

Hamid Mahdi Al-Azami

WANTED

Wanted as an Al-Qaida operative believed to be in Iraq. Has bubbly rash that extends to elbow of both arms. Has limited use of one arm/hand. Speaks Arabic and English

From Defense Intelligence Agency Web Site (2006)

Ask God to give Hamid dreams and visions that will lead him to understanding the true character and nature of God. Ask that his bondage to Satan will be broken. Ask that he will see and experience the irresistible grace of God found in God's provision for the forgiveness of his sins and that he will have the spiritual freedom to repent.

Prayer Requests:

- Ask God that the Iraqi medics may become increasingly receptive to guidance from their U.S. Army counterparts, and that they may be emotionally and mentally strengthened by the Spirit of God to handle serious trauma care with quick thought and professionalism.
- Ask God to enable the Iraqi Army and Police security forces to be able to chase the people who are emplacing improvised explosive devices out of the neighborhoods of Mosul, and ask that these dangerous men will not receive safe haven in their hometowns throughout the surrounding countryside.
- Ask God for a moral awakening among the people of Nineveh province that they will resist being tempted or intimidated into sympathizing or helping men of violence who are trying to destabilize peace and security in Mosul.
- Ask God for peace and reconciliation in race relations between Kurds, Shias, and Sunnis in the Iraqi

Psalm 91:14

"Because he loves me," says the LORD, "I will rescue him; I will protect him for he acknowledges my name."

Devotional Thought

Soldiers serve a country whose money says it trusts in God and whose pledge says it's under God. They swear an oath to perform dutifully with the help of God. Therefore, American soldier character and behavior reflects credit not only on their nation but also on their God. In Psalm 91, God promises salvation and protection to those who love him and identify publicly with him.
